

Welcome to The Glades at Byford. Fast facts.

Designed to offer a connected and healthy lifestyle for around 10,000 residents, The Glades at Byford has the best of modern village living in a beautiful rural setting. Set among 370 hectares of natural Australian landscape, The Glades at Byford is named for the twin corridors of natural parkland right in the heart of this busy community.

We've left more than 14% of the area as public open space with natural pathways and cycle routes making it easy to connect with everywhere in the estate and to nearby Byford.
